Death of George A. Platt.

Mr. Geo. A. Platt, who for some time past has been afflicted with bronchitis, died very suddenly and unexpectedly, last Monday morning.

Mr. Platt was thought to be improving upon six weeks or two months ago, but since that time had been gradually growing worse, and for about three or four days before his death had been confined to his room, but was not thought to be in apparent danger.

His wife gave him a drink of water about 2 o'clock, and upon awaking about 4 o'clock found him dead. This has passed from earth a noble generous young man—one beloved by all who knew him.

He leaves a young and devoted wife—in his Missouri, four sisters, three of whom live in Louisville. His remains were interred yesterday evening in the cemetery at this place. His wife and relatives have our deepest sympathy in their bereavement.
